Ambler's Budget for the Present Year.

Amount Is $5000 Over Last Year's Total—Minor Street Work Under Way—Transit Co., Reported Delinquent—Pavements.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Ambler borough council, held last Wednesday evening, which was attended by Henry C. Biddle, president; J. Walter Lauer, William Brown, William Hough, Joseph Cavalier, Robert Bouse and Richard Murfit, it was decided to take action at once against property owners who fail to repair pavements reported in bad condition. Several months ago Clerk William Johnson informed the members that a report had been filed with council by the chief of police, Richard S. Ford, concern the unsafe condition of a number of pavements. Upon a resolution offered by Mr. Murfit it was agreed to notify the property owners to repair the same within 60 days.

The absentees at the meeting were: James R. Gillin and Joseph J. Diver. In absence of Mr. Gillin, who is chairman of the highway committees, the report was made by Mr. Murfit, who stated that only patch work has been done during the month upon the streets. Mr. Murfit also stated that some action should be taken by council to again oil that portion of Butler avenue from Main street to the railroad. Mr. Murfit also urged that a part of a car of one-half inch stone be purchased to spread over the same after the oil is applied. The request of Mr. Murfit was agreed to, as was also his request to purchase a part of a car of three-quarter inch stone for patching.

Mr. Cavalier again reported on the condition of the streets in South Ambler and he urged council to take some action in the matter, as the streets in their present condition are unfit for travel. Upon motion the clerk was instructed to order a carload of stone for the repairs of these streets. Mr. Cavalier also reported to council that a light on the Penllyn road, within the borough limits, has been out for nine nights and no effort has been made to repair the same. Action was taken looking towards placing this light in service at once.

The Lehigh Valley Transit company again came in for censure for faliing to keep its word regarding the repairs to the tracks on Butler avenue. Mr. Murfit was instructed to take this matter up with the companw and report at the next meeting.

Treasurer Samuel Faust reported the balance on hand at last meeting: $656.30 and received during the month $908.28; bills paid, $115.06, balance of $649.52. Clerk Johnson informed council that the returns to the borough on the present tax rate will be $25,451.22, or about $.000 over last year. The amount to be received from each ward is as follows: First, $10,764.42; Second, $9652.50; Third, $5034.30. Mr. Lauer brought up several matters at the request of the property owners, among which was the placing of a fire hydrant on North Spring Garden street. Mr. Lauer also suggested increasing the tax collector's commission. It was agreed upon motion by Mr. Cavalier, who spoke of the excellent work done by Taxcollector Scott, that a straight commission of 3 per cent. be paid for this service, instead of the sliding scale as now in force. Bills amounting $579.88 were ordered paid.

The road foreman had made repairs to Southampton avenue.

An ordinance was passed fixing the rate of commission to the township treasurer after next Jan. 1 at 2 1-2 per cent. on all taxes received and 1 per cent on all other moneys which pass through his hands.

Bills amounting to $3139.79 were ordered paid.

In recognition of the large attendance of residents of the township, who had evidently attended to hear discussed the evidence for and against the suspended chief of police, James G. Bysher, Mr. Campbell stated that the men gathered in the state police drag net at Wheel Pump hotel have not yet been tried and until then the charges against the place are not sustained, and in view of the absence of the president of the board he requested that a special meeting be called, which prevailed, and the meeting adjourned.

GAS PROTEST FINAL HEARING.

Public Service Commission to Receive Data on Sept. 15.

Appeal by Ambler Civic Protective Association for Additional Funds to Aid in Defraying expenses of Ambler's Share.

The several communities in the North Penn section, comprising the Jenkintown district of the Philadelphia Suburban Gas and Electric Co., which district includes the borough, and its immediate surroundings, have for the past several months, through their local organizations, been engaged in a contest against the present rates charged for gas furnished in this locality. The members of the central committee, supervising the work are quite confident their efforts in this respect will be successful, and look forward to a substantial reduction in price, and also an improvement in the service, immediately following the findings of the public service commission, before which body the matter has been called for a final hearing on Sept. 15th, and at which time the case as prepared by the attorneys and engineers for the protesting communities will be ably prosecuted.

A carefully detailed survey of the entire proposition will be presented at that time in an effort to show that this section is entitled to a material reduction in the gas rate, commensurate with the general readjustment in all lines to pre-war conditions.

The labor and expense incident to the preparation of this work has been considerable, and not withstanding the efforts to the Ambler Civic Protective Association, in soliciting funds for this purpose, they have thus far been enabled to secure and turn over to the central committee only about 25 per cent of the allotment for Ambler.

While a few of the neighboring towns have done but little better than Ambler, there are many that have gone over the top, some with as much as 200 per cent of their quota.

Inasmuch as this is a question of almost vital interest, affecting directly in many instances, the daily cost of living, it is the hope of the Ambler Civic Protective Association that this final appeal will meet with a hearty response, and that Ambler's full share of the burden will be promptly liquidated.

Do not consider your subscription as a donation, but an investment the dividends upon which will be the saving made through a reduction in the cost of gas, and don't fail to help place Ambler in its proper position with her neighbors by sending whatever you can afford to Ellsworth L. Posey, treasurer, or to either of the local banks, on or before Sept. 17th, that the Ambler Civic Protective Association may render its final accounting to the central committee by Sept. 20th.

The assets were: Uncollected taxes, $8751.89; cash in bank, $4193.33, leaving an excess of assets over liabilities of $11,205.47.

In addition to the above there is due Plymouth township from the state highway department, on account of application and agreement No. 52, dated August 24, 1921, $1833.33 for the rebuilding of the Narcissa Creamery road from Cold Point to township line, a distance of 1.1 miles.

This arrangement with the state highway department is under the same plan whereby the Chemical works road was recently improved at a cost of $3000 to the township, and of which sum $2000 was refunded to Plymouth by the state highway department, so that the net cost to the township was but $1000.

Training Season for Dogs, Wearing Collars, Etc.

As a matter of information to dog owners, special attention is called to the present status of the law permitting the training of dogs as follows:

Under the latest amendment to section 26 of the game law, dogs may be trained upon any of the living wild game or birds excepting elk and deer and fawns and wild turkeys, when accompanied by and under control of their masters, from the 1st day of September to the last day of March next following, Sundays excepted, so long as no firearms usually raised at arm's length and fired from the shoulder are carried and no injury is inflicted upon said animals or birds.

Another feature of the same section imposes a penalty of $10 for every day dogs are permitted to chase game during the close season and $5 for each game bird or rabbit killed without notice of any sort to owners to restrain dogs. Many dog owners have been under the impression that after September 1st they can turn their dogs loose and permit them to chase at will because the training season is on. This is absolutely prohibited, and dogs cannot legally be permitted to run at large and chase game at will even during the training season.

We wish also to call attention to the fact that dogs should at all times wear a collar, to which is attached a metallic tag or plate, on which the name and address of the owner is given in plain English; otherwise the dog may be killed without any notice if found chasing game during the closed season for such bird or animal. Under the dog license law of the state, it is necessary to have the license tag attached to the collar of the dog at all times as proper perfection under that law. The practice of removing collars from dogs while exercising or training or while using them during the open season for hunting may cause the loss of valuable dogs without redress in law, and owners are cautioned to keep collars on their dogs at all times, whether training or hunting.

The Farmer and His Market.

Does the farmer do well or ill when in time of low prices and diminished demand for his products he deliberately plants a smaller acreage? Should he be commended or rebuked for adjusting his production to the conditions of his market?

If the farmer is a kind of serf whose only purpose in life is to raise abundant food at the cheapest possible pric- for the other members of the community, he ought of course to plant all he can, work as hard as he can and raise all he can every year. If he is a self-supporting citizen engaged in the business of producing foodstuffs for sale to his fellow citizens who are otherwise employed, it is hard to see any reason why he should not use his intelligence in estimating the amount of his crops that he can sell at such prices as to give him a decent living, and then restrict his production to that amount. No one is astonished or shocked when a manufacturer closes a part of his plant because the market will not absorb his entire output. Why should we expect the farmer to raise so much that a part of his crop has to be thrown away and the rest sold at at a price that returns him little or nothing for his labor.

Of course it is difficult for the farmers to tell exactly how much should reduce their acreage in order to produce the necessary and only the necessary amount of food. The independent producers are so many and so widely scattered that each man can get only an uncertain idea of what his own share in raising the crop of the year should be, or of just what the millions of others farmers are doing with regard to the siuation. And even if the growing means of intercommunication among farmers and the increasing efficiency of cooperative organizations should help him to a sensible decision on the question of acreage, there are the uncertainties of drought or food or insect pest that often make the harvest of September something quite different from the estimate of May. There is therefore the danger that a general movement for reducing crop areas may go too far and result in a real shortage of food. But that does not affect the conclusion that he farmers have a perfect right to adjust their work and their production to what they believe is to be the effectaul demand, and that it is often wise for them to do it.

The cotton planters of the South have this year done exactly that. Knowing that almost one half of last year's great crop of thirteen million bales remained unsold and that an other bumper crop would depress prices to the point of bankruptcy for them, they planted less than three quarters of their usual acreage and raised a crop of only some eight million bales —the smallest crop since 189[illegible]. But the carry-over is so great that the visible supply of cotton is almost as large as ever, and the price has not been much affected by the crop reports. The grain farmers have not reduced their acreage materially, and their crop is likely to be about as large as last year, though much smaller than the extraordinary crop of 1919.

The Haldeman Family.

Meeting for the first time in Bucks county, the Haldeman family held its eighth annual reunion Saturday Aug. 27, at Funk's Park, Chalfont, with 215 relatives present. Usually the reunion has been held in the vicinity of Pottstown, but so many of the Bucks county relatives have become interested in the past two years that the place of meeting was changed. Next year it will again be held at Chalfont on the third Saturday of August.

President Josiah Haldeman, of Royersford, was in charge of the business meeting during which there were addresses by the president, John T. Haldeman, and M. S. Cogan, of Doylestown, and the secretary read a history of the family which was traced back to Nicholas Haldeman, who settled in Salford township, Montgomery county, in 1733.

The remainder of the day was spent by the family in getting acquainted. There was no election of officers as it is held but once in three years. The present officers are: President, Josiah Haldeman, Royersford; secretary C. Waldo Haldeman, Malvern; treasurer, John T. Haldeman.

The Ingham Spring.

A local newspaper publishes the following concerning the Ingham spring, Bucks county, which is owned by Dr. R. V. Mattison, of Ambler:

An old resident of Solebury informs us that the proper name of the fountain and stream known generally as Ingham's Spring is Aquetong. The land in the vicinity was originally owned by James Logan and the place was then called Logan's Spring. 100 years ago the land was leased by Samuel D. Ingham from the Logan estate, and the spring became known by his name. "Aquetong" is a beautiful and suitable name for such a conspicuous natural object. It is of Indian origin and is now applied to the bridge as it was also to the school house near the spring.

The Ku Klux Klan.

Criticism of the Ku Klux Klan has become widespread and so vitriolic that William Joseph Simmons, Imperial Wizard, with the authority of the Supreme Council of the organization, has made public a sworn statement in which he says that the Knights do not encourage or foster lawlessness, race prejudice or religious intolerance, and that no members can commit acts of lawlessness and remain in the fellowship of the organization. He states that the Klan is a law-abiding, legally chartered, standard fraternal order, designed to teach and inculcate the purest ideals of American citizenship. He pronounces the present attempt to fasten acts of lawlessness upon the organization to be the attempt of enemies to discredit it.

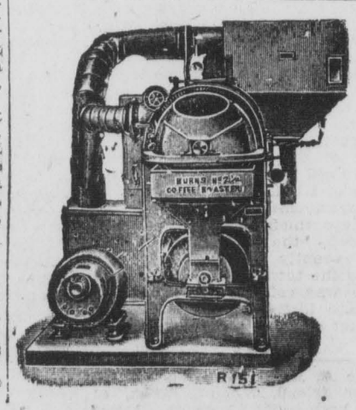
These are strong words. Undoutedly the mask of the Klan has been abused and employed to conceal persecution, bigotry and crime. Undoubtedly, also, as Col. Simmons admits, the klan is not a perfect machine and lapses from its ideals occur.

Mere statements of ideals, however, cannot excuse lawlessness in an organization whose aims invite lawlessness, whose existence with the avowed object of accomplishing purposes for whose accomplishment government bodies are legally constituted is itself an affront to government. Col. Simmons has a heavy task on his hands. If he is unable to clean up the Klan it had better be dissolved.—Exchange.

Big Season for Game Expected in State.

More than 440,000 hunters' license tags and receipts have been sent to the treasurers of the counties of Pennsylvania by the state game commission for the licensing of hunters and after September 1 every person going into the fields or woods with a gun, unless upon his or her land, will have to display the tag.

The tag must be worn in the middle of the back and the receipt available to show. It is expected by Seth E. Gordon that 450,000 licenses will be issued this year. Last year over 432,000 were issued.



Allegheny leads with 27,500 licenses, Philadelphia having 17,500. Luzerne 16,000, Lancaseter 14, 750, Westmoreland 14,500 ,Berks 14,500, Dauphin 13,500, York 12,500, Schuylkill and Cambria each 11,750, Blair 10,500, Chester and Washington each 10,250 and Montgomery 10,000.

The blackbird season is now in full swing and while many hunters have secured licenses, quite a few have not. Game officials are urging everyone to obtain licenses immediately, so there will be no rush when the small game season starts.

Contrary to an impression which appears to be general, the season for hunting elk will not open this year. It has been extended for two years by an act of the Legislature. Elk were turned loose in the State ten years ago, after having been unknown for half a century or so.

On Saturday, September 10th, Messrs. Reese & Linderman, will offer at public sale the desirable 16 1-2 acre farm for John A. Thompson, on Water St., Worcester township. Full details of this sale appear in this issue.

The old Penn Hotel property, on Main street near Sweede, Norristown, is being renovated and improvement added by Lampros Bros. Charles Smith, who is working at the place, found a packet containing the licenses of former owners of the hotel property tracing the proprietors from 1865 to the present time.

Beginning with the license issued to Abraham S. Ortlip in 1865 the licenses were taken out by Jonas Heydt, Charles A. Ulrich, Adam Zinnel, F. D. Hildenbrand, Charles Scheidt, Amos Tyson, William A. Finley, John Burkert and J. O'Donnel.

O'Donnel sold the property several months ago to Lampros Bros., who will convert the premises into a restaurant.

Towns to Get the Tax.

Arrangements for a new system of certification for payment of proceeds of the state tax on foreign fire insurance companies' business in Pennsylvania to municipalities for their firemen's relief funds are being worked out by the state treasury and insurance departments.

The treasury will distribute about $500,000 in the next few months to municipalities following the recent decision of the attorney general regarding the fund.

Misdirected Mail.

It seems almost inconceivable, but it is reported as an official fact that 350,000 pieces or misdirected mail are handled daily at the New York post office, which includes Manhattan only. This means that 127,750,000 misdirected pieces are handled every year in this one metropolitan center. It requires no imagination to appreciate what this means by way of hampering and slowing down the Postal Service. Great armies of postal clerks, who might otherwise be engaged in facilitating the general service, are thus tied down to the problem of rectifying the mistakes and supplying the omissions that are chargeable to careless correspondents. We Americans sort of take our Postal Service for granted. We kick like steers when one letter out of the millions handled daily goes astray or is delayed a few hours; yet we are so neglectful of our own responsibilities in this connection that we pile thousands of pieces of misdirected mail into the post office and expect that the postal machinery can and must in some way surmount our negligence.

The New York situation is merely typical of the situation in every other city in the land. Take Grand Rapids, for example. Postmaster Hogadone says that, as nearly as can be estimated, the local postoffice handles 5,000 pieces of misdirected mail every 24 hours; and, in addition thereto, about 20,000 pieces of mail are received without street addresses. It requires the full time of five clerks in Grand Rapids alone to correct the addresses on misdirected mail. The mail without complete address causes loss of time to distributors who could otherwise have been employed in handling thereby making it possible in many instances to give an earlier delivery. We who constantly yell for "Greater economy" and "greater efficiency" in the public service may well pause and ask ourselves whether it wouldn't be a good thing, if we took a little more care in making "economy" and "efficiency" in the public service possible.

Some of the more common mistakes, locally observed, in addressing mail are noted as follows: Addresses re written hastily and illegibly, often in lead pencil; pencil addresses become obliterated in the course of handling. Abbreviations in the names of firms, post offices, and States are confusing and invite trouble; for instance, contemplate the similarity in the abbreviations of "Pa." for Pennsylvania, "La." for Louisiana and "Ia." for Iowa; also "Col." for Colorado and 'Cal." for California. Unless all the letters in these abbreviations are written very plainly, there is danger of mistakes. Street addresses are often omitted (also the regional direction —NE., SE., NW., SW., on city mail:) and obsolete mailing lists are the bane of postal existence.

All things considered, it is really a wonder that the post office makes as few mistakes as it does. When one thinks of the 5,000 misdirected pieces of mail in Grand Rapids daily—and 350,000 pieces in New York—and when one multiplies an average figure by the number of post offices in the country, it is necessary to confess that the people do not do their whole part in the matter of postal efficiency. If we are going to thro··· stones, we mustn't live in glass houses. We are all demanding of the Post Office Department that it "turn over a new leaf' under its peppy new Washington chief. Let us "turn over a new leaf," too.

Boy Bitten By Snake.

Earnest Pavilidis, son of Dr. I. M. W. F. Price, of Royersford, is president ing in a field near his home recently was bitten by a snake. The boy, in company with other children, picked out a clump of weeds in which to hide. As he sat down in the weeds he screamed with pain and ran to his home. His father was in his office and upon examination found two fang marks in the boy's flesh. They were immediately lanced, allowing the poisoned blood to escape.

H. C. Williams Withdraws From Abington Fight.

H. Calvin Williams, of Abington who was making a very strong fight for the nomination to the office of township treasurer in Abington township, has withdrawn from the fight, leaving but five candidates in the field. They are Dr. W. Howard Wilson, the present incumbent; David F. Benninghoff, of McKinley; Haseltine S. Lever, Chief of Police of Abington Township; Harold S. Cross, of Rydal and William Beatty, of Glenside.

Elopers are Wrecked and Blessed in Day.

Charles Gehret, structual iron manufacturer, and his wife suffered a double shock when they received word that their daughter, Catharine, was married in Philadelphia to Thomas Watson, of that city, and that in hurrying to the seashore afterward their automobile struck another machine and the newlyweds were removed to the hospital.

The parents of the girl, under the circumstances, have given their blessing, and rushed to the hospital, where they found the injuries not to be serious.

The bride had been sojourning at Wildwood, and Watson at Stone Harbor. They motored in the girl's machine to Philadelphia and were wed Wednesday, it is said. Miss Gehret has been a student at Hood College, Frederick, Md. Her friends understood that she was engaged to be married to a physician at a Norristown hospital.

NORTH WALES

The State had advertized for bids to construct the highway route No. 178 of cement from Norristown to Doylestown, and which has been completed to Washington Square, and the streets from the Bethlehem pike at the Walker inn to Chalfont. The route passes through Franklinville, Wm. Penn inn, Main St. to Walnut St. to Bethlehem pike. The latter part of Walnut street is now an asphalt state road, as well as West Walnut street and Morris road to Franklinville.

The Stotesburys on Vacation.

A vacation trip, which has been somewhat belated but which promises to be full of attractions, was started last Wednesday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury, of Whitemarsh Hall, who left on their way to Lake Louise and Banff by way of Quebec.

Mr. and Mrs. Stotesbury are accompanied by Mrs. Stotesbury's daughter, Mrs. Cromwell Brooks, and it is expected that somewhere in the west they will be joined by Mr. and Mrs. James H. R. Cromwell, who are now in Alaska. Mrs. Cromwell was Miss Delphine Dodge, of Dertoit, before her marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Stotesbury and Mrs. Brooks, on their "seeing America first" trip, are using a private car which was specially fitted up for their use. They will return, it is expected, by way of California and will be gone six weeks.

The car includes three staterooms and all were fitted up with furnishings from the Stotesbury place at Chestnut Hill. All the bedroom furniture on the train was from Whitemarsh Hall, and floor lamps, cigar stands and other smaller pieces wer also specially provided.

Bucks Co. Candidates Draw for Positions.

Howard I. James, of Bristol, drew first position recently at Harrisburg for position on the ballot this Fall as candidate for delegate convention.

Candidates were drawn this way:

Bucks, Montgomery — Republican, Howard I. James, Bristol; Ashton L. Worrall, Glenside; Miss Emeline Henry Hooven, Norristown; Democrat, Webster Grim, Doylestown.

Under the old plan names were put in the list alphabetically, but the last Legislature changed this and provided for the drawing of lots.

The drawing was witnessed by many people including judges and candidates from all over the state. More than 200 names had to be drawn under the act of 1921, which provides that position on ballots must be determined by lot instead of first letter of the family name of a candidate. This act was passed to prevent jockeying with names as has occurred in the past. Many candidates came to draw themselves, while others sent representatives or proxies. As soon as the list can be made up nominations will be certified.

Leaves Estate To Children.

The will of Hannah E. Shearer, late of Norristown, disposing of an estate valued at $1000 was admitted to probate. Testator gives $500 to a daughter, Ella; the residue is divided between the daughter, Ella and a son, Edward R. The daughter Ella, is also named as executor.

Our Gigantic Business

An idea of the size of our business and our ability to serve the public may be gained from the fact that it requires a herd of more than one hundred thousand cows, milked twice daily, to supply the rich milk from the cream of which our butter is made!

Two million hens and over are needed to fill our egg requirements! The daily potato consumption of Philadelphia is about 20 cars—yet in one week recently we distributed 77 carloads of potatoes! And shortly previous to that, we sold over our counters in a single week 193 carloads.

As another example of our immense output, the weekly capacity of our three big daylight bakeries is more than two million loaves, requiring the wheat production of more than two thousand acres!

Our present position as supreme leader in the retail grocery and meat field is due to our unswerving policy of giving the public "the squarest kind of deal." Today, more than ever before, it pays to deal at the "Asco" Stores, where Quality counts and your money goes the farthest.

Miss Gertrude Harton, of Highland avenue, Ambler, died this Wednesday morning at 4 o'clock in Montgomery hospital, Norristown, as the result of burns sustained in an automobile accident last Thursday on the Ridge pike near the Seven Stars hotel. The story of the accident is as follows: Miss Harton, together with her brother-in-law, Harry Durkin, left Ambler for Reading where they intended to meet Mrs. Durkin, who is Miss Harton's sister, who had been spending some time there as the guest of relatives everything went well until they were about to enter the Ridge pike from the chemical works road. Their machine had almost crossed the tracks of the Reading Transit company's when a trolley car struck the machine about the rear door with such force that both Miss Harton and Mr. Durkin were thrown from their seats and while still clinging to the car they were dragged almost 70 feet by the trolley before it coulde be stopped. When the car was brought to a standstill the machine was released and it fell over into the ditch and at once burst into flames. Both of the occupants got clear of the burning car, but Miss Harton in climbing the bank unfortunately slipped and fell back into the burning car, and before she could be rescued she was badly burned about the body and limbs. Mr. Durkin, who had escaped injury up to this time, was seriously burned about the hands in attempting to rescue Miss Harton from the blazing car, which was completely distroyed. Miss Harton was removed to the Montgomery hospital where she died, as stated above. The death of the young woman, who was beloved by all who knew her because of her cheerful disposition, came a shock to the community where she has resided all her life. Miss Harton was born June 30, 1892. She was the daughter of J. J. Harton, the well known Ambler groceryman, who retired from business a short time ago, where he disposed of his business located at Main and Walnut streets, which he conducted for a number of years. Besides her father, she is survived by two brothers, Howard, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and Paul, of Ambler, and two sisters, Anna, wife of John Smith, of Reading, Pa., and Marie, wife of Harry Durkin, of Ambler.

Mrs. Jesse Freas and son Vernon motored to Reading Fair on Tuesday.

There is considerable disappointment among the residents who were interested in the reconstruction of the DeKalb Street pike. Direct From Plant to You

There's No Middleman in the Gas Business

You hear a lot about how the "product direct to consumer" method reduces the cost price of any commodity. And here's a splendid example of the way that actually works out.

Gas is piped from the central mains to your home or place of business. Nobody makes any profit on it except the stockholders of the gas company-many of whom live in this community.

There's only one small profit, and absolutely no middleman in the gas business. That's one reason why you still get good gas and plenty of it, together with the service, at rates which make gas the cheapest fuel on the market.

TOWN TOPICS.

A reliable, dependable, easy running, easy riding, economical in gasoline, oil and assuring long life to tires—such is the car you are looking for. I beg to call your attention to the Buick. Examine it critically, ask a Buick owner and let me demonstrate its many commendable features. —Rudolph Speelhoffer, agent. adv

Tresspass notices on sale at the "Gazette" office are prepared in conformity with the existing state laws. The provision is that the property must be "prominently posted" with a "printed sign." The sign is required to state that the land is private property and that trespassing thereon is prohibited, and in addition the act of assembly must be stated at the foot of the card. Property owners have desire to proceed legally against trespassers must comply with this law themselves with regard to the nature of the notice posted on their property, else legal action will fail, no matter how flagrant the violation. If you desire to close your land, secure these "Gazette" office notices and post them "prominently," as required by the law.

With the opening to traffic of the Springhouse and Chestnut Hill turnpike (and that is its title, not "Bethlehem pike") the speedsters will prevail on the smoothly concreted highway and will be the bane of a peaceful existence for a time until the dangerous practice is stopped by officers of the law. The turnpike passes through a thickly settled community all the way from Chestnut Hill to Springhouse, along which there are no sidewalks except for a small section on the easterly border of Ambler borough. Consequently the smooth concrete will be utilized by children cyclists, roller skaters and by other persons in both wet and dry weather who desire a firm, dry footing. All these individuals have rights on the highway, and should be protected, if they are not by law, by caution on the part of drivers of the easily controlled motor cars who should proceed at a rate not exceeding 25 miles per hour, and in places much more slowly, over the course of the easily controlled motor cars, boulevard through a suburban, and not an urban, section. It may seem a hardship on the speed-inclined motorist, but caution and safety for others are the better parts of motoring in the long run.

Cold Winter Predicted.

The cool spell of the early August has afforded a refreshing respite from the torrid and humid weather experienced during the previous month or more. Delightfully cool evenings and sunny days, interspersed with enough rainy ones to satisfy the farmer, have made life decidedly worth the living. Indeed, all would have been well had not the coal dealers redoubled their efforts to convince us that there is another season coming and that a dire shortage in fuel impends.

On top of this there now come dolorous prognostications of a hard and early winter. Over in Ocean county, New Jersey, some one has discovered a purple aster blooming a full month prematurely, a portent that Old Boreas will arrive on the scene considerably in advance of his normal schedule. From the woodlands of the Northern East come corroborative signs. The forehanded squirrels are laying in food supplies in greater bulk than usual—although the chronicler is not specific in designating what nuts are available for the purpose at this time of the year. Groundhogs are said to be burrowing deeper than is customary, a tendancy, however, which recent heavy rains may have checked to our ultimate advantage. Hornets are reported to be building cold weather nests, which differ from hot weather retreats in particulars which are not divulged. Geese, too, have been heard flying at night, a full six weeks before their time—but we may take comfort in the thought that the up-State counryman, whose veracity is not open to question, was dreaming of the hunting season and mistook the drone of an airplane motor for the whirr of wings of the honk-honk of an automobile horn for its prototype in the animal kingdom. The peculiar morning chill, too, whose presence on hillsides having a northerly slope forms the burden of the Pike County Woodsmen's plaint, may be due more to the absence of an eye-opener in these Volsteadian days than to any premonitory variation in the temperature.

Skepticism with respect to the validity of these and like signs may be pardoned in the un-weatherwise. Under the circumstances it is akin to optimism, and to be encouraged. Why worry, during a hot summer that is,over a cold winter that may be? Such an attitude may be maintained with equanimity until the goose-bone prophet is heard from whose annual pronouncements are accepted as authentic by all save the scientists of the Weather Bureau and like doubting Thomases.

Quakertown Buildings.

At the preesent time five building operations are in various stages of completion. Four of these are dwellings and one a conservatory of music. This has the semblance of a record, since there has been virtually no building of dwellings since the war. In the opinion of those contemplating new dwellings it has been deemed unwise to await further price reductions in view of the scarcity of desirable houses. If a man sells his present abode and wishes to remain a town resident he doesn't know where to go, or if he does, he may be compelled to buy an old house at the owner's price, which is usually of substantial proportions. Real estate has taken on considerable in valuation, though it doesn't seem apparent in the assessor's list. Another compelling argument in favor of building is that some landlords are accused of boosting rents Be all this as it may, there is a slight increase in then umber of dwellings, which is as welcome as it is necessary.

More dwellings would be forthcoming and business woud receive a greater impetus if there were just a little more team-work. The Chamber of Commerce has been unjustly criticised for its alleged do-nothing policy, but the citizens at large have nothing or no one to blame but themselves. No civic body can function successfuly unless every one in town helps. Chambers of Commerce everywhere would do less reorganizing if the townsfolk at large would become interested and help instead of hinder. And unless this is done no town can prosper. The town will remain in a rut as long as people will persist in pulling in different directions.

Wills Probated.

The will of Moriah R. Yerkes, late of Abington, was admitted to probate, it disposes of an estate valued at $3136..15, which is given absolutely to two sons, Milton and Harry, who are also named as executors.

Cheltenham Politics.

The situation in Cheltenham township was clarified and strongly defined last week, when Harry Renninger, of Glenside, a brother of Frank X. Renninger, district attorney of Montgomery County, announced that he will not be a candidate for the treasurership, and that the entire strength developed in preliminary work, which has covered a period of six weeks, will be thrown to Mr. Cochran. That action is expected to have a material effect on the outcome, as Mr. Renninger's strength in the Glenside section of Cheltenham is conceded, and Mr. Cochran is a power in his home precinct of Wyncote.

Lansdale Houses Struck.

Lightning bolts struck two Lansdale places during the severe electrical storm that swept the section Sunday afternoon. Chimneys were shattered at the L. K. Allebach home on Columbia avenue, and at the Mariano Pennise home on West fifth street.

Ku Klux Klan to Open Branch.

A district organizer of the Ku Klux Klan has been in Conshohocken several days and it is expected a branch will be established in the borough. He will return this week. According to reports, a numbers of prominent residents will become identified with the lodge.

Hurt by Trolley Claims $500 Damages.

Attorney Harold G. Knight has brought suit in behalf of Morris Hoffman, of Philadelphia aganist the Lehigh Valley Transit Co., to recover $500 damages due to the alleged fact that while he was a passenger on a car of defendant company and was about to alight, on June 20 last, near Fort Washington, the car suddenly started throwing him to the ground and injuring him.

Suit was also brought in the office of the Prothonotary by Attorneys E. L. and Tomas Hallman in behalf of B. F. Goodrich Rubber Co. aganist W. L. Stauffer, of Norristown, trading as The Hamilton Garage. No statement of claim accompanies the praecipe.

Engagement Announced.

Mrs. Dessa G. Wentling, thirteenth avenue and Fayette street ,Conshohocken, has announced the engagment of her daughter, Lois Kathryn, to Mr. William Davis, a student at State College and a'son of Mr. and Mrs. Reese P. Davis, of 128 East Fourth avenue.

Mr. Davis and Miss Wentling were classmates in the local high school and, Miss Wentling is now a teacher in the Conshohocken schools.

Telford Barn Burned.

Sparks from a threshing machine are supposed to have ignited the straw stack in the barn of Edwin Stover, near Telford, Thursday afternoon, which, resulted in the destruction of the building and crops at a loss of approximately $5000. The Telford Fire company answered the call. All the cattle and horses were saved.

Auto Hits Lansdale Man.

Struck by an automobile as he was walking along the Lansdale Boulevard Wednesday night, Abner Phillips, 64 years old, of Lansdale, was badly injured, but he will recover. The automobile was driven by Harold Anson, of Lansdale.

Lansdale Nurse's Auto.

The Lansdale community nurse auto fund is "gittin' thar." The total subscriptions to date are $614.25.

Veteran Fireman Dies.

Miles Stemple, chief of the Conshohocken fire department, a former member of town council and for years widely known and active in political circles, died Saturday, Aug. 20 at his home from an affliction of some months' duration. The fire bell on the Washington engine house was tolled to announce his death, 73 strokes indicating his age. As firemen he was known beyond the state. As a councilman he was known for his determination and fighting qualities in protecting the small taxpayer. He helped to form the Washington Fire company 30 years ago, of which he was the first and only chief. He is survived by a widow, Margaret, one daughter, Mrs. Annie Sterner, and three sons, George, Rebuen and Jesse.

A Grateful Letter.

It is in trying conditions like that related below by Mrs. Geo. L. North of Naples, N. P., that proves the worth of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. "Two years ago last summer" she says "our little boy had dissentery. At that time we were living in the country eight miles from a doctor. Our son was taken ill suddenly and was about the sickest child I ever saw. He was in terrible pain all the time and passed from one convulsion into another. I sent my husband for the doctor and after he was gone thought of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy in the cupboard. I gave him some of it and he began to improve at once. By the time the doctor arrived he was out of danger." sep

To Divide Township.

The coming election will bring about a change with regard to Frederick township, which will be divided, with the first of the year, the new jurisdiction to be known as Upper Frederick and Lower Frederick.

The present West election District of Frederick will constitute, practically, all of what will henceforth be known as Upper Frederick, while the old East District, will in the main, constitute Lower Frederick. Virtually the lines of the new township will follow the lines of the old districts.

Chronic Catarrh.

Our manner of living makes us very susceptible to colds and a succession of colds causes chronic catarrh a loathsome disease with which it is estimated that ninety-five per cent of our adult population are afflicted. If you would avoid chronic catarrh you must avoid colds or having contracted a cold get rid of it as quickly as possible. Chamberlani's Cough Remedy is highly recommended as a cure for colds and can be depended upon. sep

Each Marry for Fourth Time.

William Nathan Coleman, of Norristown, recently secured a license to become the fourth husband of Sarah Bellamay, also of Norristown.

By the same token the prospective bride is authorized to become the fourth wife of Coleman.

Both lost his and her respective former mates by death.

The record in Coleman's case shows the loss of a wife in 1914 another in 1917, and the last on May 5 last.

In Mrs. Bellamay's case the record shows the loss of husbands in years 1912, 1913 and 1915.

Coleman gave his occupation as laborer, and Mrs. Bellamay as housekeeper. Both are colored.

Claim of $10,000 Against Autoist.

By Attorney T. Lane Bean, in behalf of George Jacobs, of Schwenksville, against Andreas Mitron, of Perkiomen, to recover $10,000 damages as the result of injuries alleged to have been received by plaintiff. On February 17 last, the plaintiff it is stated, was walking on the Gravel pike in Frederick township, when he was run down by an automobile driven by defendant. Jacobs alleges that he was seriously and permanently injured as a result of the accident.

By the same attorney suit in divorce in behalf of Prudenzina Migliaccio, of Lansdale, by her father and next friend, Frank Gagliano, against Severio Migliacco, on the grounds of desertion, July 13, 1919, and cruel and barbarous treatment. The couple were married June 21, 1919, the marital relations not lasting a month.

Lest You Forget.

Let us remind you that Chamberlain's Tablets not only cause a gentle movement of the bowels but improve the appetite and strengthen the digestion. sep

Jail Keeper Recovers.

Dr. R. Knipe, physician for the Montgomery county prison, reports that Alex McGarvey, the keeper who was attacked by two colored women at the jail about Aug. 15, sustaining injuries which necessitated his removal to Montgomery hospital, has so far recovered that he will be able to attend a hearing in the case.

Magistrate Lenhardt stated however, that a further hearing in the case will not be necessary, as there has been sufficient evidence taken to hold the women for trial at court.

Keep Well and Be Happy.

If you would be happy you must keep your bowels regular. One or two of Chamberlain's Tablets taken immediately after supper will cause a gentle movement of the bowels on the following morning. Try it. sep.

FORT WASHINGTON NEWS.

Speedsters a Menace on Pike—Minor Improvements Hereabouts—Charles Williams Faces Serious Charge—Personals and Miscellaneous Items.

Mrs. Thomas Gillian and Miss Dorothy Moll were callers on Mrs. Sigals at Edge Hill on Sunday afternoon.

Edward Roberts is supplying crushed stone from his quarry to the townships of Upper Dublin, Whitemarsh and Springfield townships.

Mrs. Joseph Fehrer spent a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Leonard Mower of Frankford.

William Lee has returned after having spent a vacation at Pitman, N. J.

Henry Oberholzer is adding a rear room to his residence, which improvement will contain bath facilities.

William Cunningham, employed by R. M. Cadwalader, Jr., is attending the Long Island dog show this week.

My grateful acknowledgement of courtesies extended by neighbors and friends in his recent bereavement Mr. Thomas Bimson extends his thanks.

A force of men has been at work along the pike making a fill on each side of the concrete.

Miss Helen Merrill left last week for Bridgeton, N. J., where she will become a member of the faculty of the public school of that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Sterling have returned from an enjoyable trip of several weeks to Boston Mass., and Portland, Maine.

William Keller is erecting a smaller building on the site where the barn once stood on his property and which was recently torn down.

Unless some action is taken by the authorities soon to prevent the speed maniac having things his own way on the pike there will be a number of serious accidents. Quite a number of drivers of motor vehicles, when they drive on the new cement road, seem to think that they must show all the speed their machine has regardless of how much danger there is to others. This makes now one of the best highways in this section and it should be made safe for the careful driver and the pedestrian.

Before leaving for State college last week Ralph Michener entertained a number of his former student friends from the college.

Charged with a serious offense, preferred by Louis DeSpirito on behalf of his 10-year-old daughter, Charles Williams, colored about 40 years of age, was held, one day last week, without bail for his appearance at the next term of court by Justice of the Peace Rhoads. The principals are residents of Hoopeston.

The baseball season is over so far as the local team is concerned, and last Saturday a number of the players and fans went up to Lansdale to see Doylestown and Lansdale fight it out for the high honors in the Montgomery County league. The latter won a well played game by the score of 5 to 1.

Fassett Conard is being employed on the property of Mrs. Amanda Carn and the past week he has been engaged in trimming the hedge fence.

The telegraph pole in the rear of the station that was quite dangerous on account of having been partly pushed down by a freight car, has been straightened and made secure by cables.

Repairs have been made to the Morris road and many of the humps have been leveled, and where there were holes fill has been made.

Harvest home service was held in St. Paul's Reformed church last Sunday. The church was beautifully decorated with fruit of the fields and gardens. The pastor, drawing lessons from the occasion, set forth the great truth that we are all sowers—Now we are sowing the seed, and in time the harvest will come. Next Sunday he will have a special message for every member on the work of the church.

Newberry Rittenhouse, who motored from Uniontown to Atlantic City to spend his vacation and who called on relatives here, has returned to the former place.

WEST POINT.

Potatoes are now being dug. Only a fair crop is being reported. However, some of the farmers say they have almost as large a crop as last year.

Harrison Moyer has purchased a Velie touring car from Richard Linberg, agent.

Services will be held at 3 o'clock next Sunday afternoon in Grace Reformed church.

Last Friday the remains of Annie, widow of the late Samuel Luts, were interred in Greenlawn cemetery. The deceased was life-long resident of West Point and had been ill a long time. She died Tuesday, September 6.

The League of Women Voters, of Upper Gwynedd township, has placed two women in the field as candidates for school director. Mrs. Mary A. Jenkins and Mrs. C. Walton are the two candidates running for the nomination. They are on both the Democratic and Republican tickets. Last Thursday evening a rally was held in their interest by the league in Firemen's hall. Mrs. T. Duncan Just, of Upper Dublin township, who appears to be directing the fight for the nomination for the league candidates in this township as well as the adjoining township, delivered an address to the voters at the meeting.

Quite a large number of local baseball fans went to Lansdale last Saturday to see the game between Lansdale and Doylestown. Several of our business places were closed for a few hours to allow the employes to witness the contest.

The board of directors have placed the schools of the township on standard time, instead of daylight saving.

Our baseball team engaged the Oaks team in a diamond contest last Sunday, but rain put a stop to further play after the fourth inning. The score at the time was 6 to 2 in favor the visitors. Walter Fenstermacher injured one of his fingers in the game and was unable to use the smae on Monday, as it was badly swollen.

Edward Vaughan has a very nice field of sun flowers just west of the West Point foundry. There are many yards here that are attractive also because of the many beautiful flowers.

WYNDMOOR.

The school of the Church of the Seven Dolors opened Monday.

A large force of men has been at work along the property of E. T. Stotesbury, on Cheltenham road, mowing off the bushes and weeds and cleaning out the gutter. An artesian well is also being drilled on the place.

Wyndmoor public school opened last week. A large number of last year's graduates are attending the high school at Ambler. There are about 30 students in this year's senior class.

John Fleisher is erecting a garage in the rear of his property.

The foundation walls of Andrew Costello's new house on Cheltenham road, are being erected.

Mrs. A. R. Unruh and Mr. and Mrs. Gustave motored to New York on Saturday and returned Monday.

The wainscoating is now being done in the main auditorium of Grace Lutheran church and other interior improvements are to be made. The new pipe organ is being installed, and all the improvements are to be completed by November 15. A vesper choir is being organized also.

Malcolm Robertson has returned after spending two months at Saranac lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vandegrift, of New-Brunswick, N. J., are the guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. Russell Schivle.
